

Lumeta Tune Up

Still waters run deep, the proverb says. The surface of your workplace may appear smooth but below it, you and your team have been caught in an undertow of exigencies. Turnover, role changes, reorgs and the attendant new ways of doing business can make for churn below the surface and absorb your team's time and energy.

Occasionally, something worthwhile falls to the bottom. And when that something is a critical component of your network, notice! Don't wait for the sand to settle. Step back, reassess, and take action to resurface the benefits of your Lumeta IPsonar solution.

But how?

Through an engagement with our Professional Services Organization, whose technical consultants can partner with your operations personnel to tune your Lumeta IPsonar system for optimal performance.

The Lumeta Tune Up is a comprehensive analysis of your current Lumeta implementation followed by specific, detailed recommendations on what and how to fine-tune results.

Analysis

The analysis is tied to the Deployment, Scanning/Discovery, Reporting, and Integration settings of your network situational awareness solution. It is customized to your situation and may include:

- Assessing scan and discovery configurations relative to your organization's use cases
- Examining your current deployment architecture relative to known changes in your networked environment
- Validating the Target, Known, and Avoid lists based on current knowledge and leveraging multiple information sources (e.g., IPAM)
- Aligning reporting views and dashboards to accurately reflect your organization's business and visualization needs
- Identifying opportunities to integrate tools already in your platforms to mutual benefit

Recommendations

The analysis leads to a recommendations report containing:

- New and updated scan and discovery configurations that work demonstrably better
- An updated deployment architecture that improves performance and reach
- Validated Target, Known, and Avoid lists that enable the authoritative management of assets
- Better reporting views and dashboards that facilitate data comprehension and visualization
- Integration recommendations that make multiple tools in your platform work better together

Call us today to schedule a Lumeta Tune Up to refresh and renew the value of your Lumeta IPsonar solution: